Old Surrey School

The historic Surrey School opened in 1908. The school was the first as a county educational center and housed both primary grades and Washington County's male high school before it became a coed elementary school in 1927.

This school was the site of several first in the Washington County educational system including a manual training program, lunch program and health program. In 1983 it closed as a public school and the Washington County Hospital bought the property from the Washington County Commission to operate a childcare center. Meritus Medical Center replaced the Washington County Hospital and then closed the child care center in 2016 but retained ownership of the building.

Purchased in July of 2021 by independent developers from Washington D.C. Valerie Sanderlin and Alexsis McKinney coming soon in 2024 to the old Surrey School will be an upscale Boutique Hotel that will focus on well-being and wellness. This hotel will offer guests a spa, steam room, sauna, multi-sensory experience upon other self-care options. There will be a restaurant on site as well.
